

PRESS RELEASE

Visplay: Modular systems for commercial interiors.

Visplay develops and produces modular systems for commercial interiors. Visplay systems enable flexible merchandising and can be adapted to a range of different target groups and design concepts. Whilst our systems enhance the interior ambiance, their neutral image emphasises the merchandise rather than the system itself (Invisible Design®). Quality, timeless design and long life-cycles characterise our products. Whether they are structural systems, glass systems, horizontal or vertical systems or systems for the selective use of walls and floors: Visplay systems offer many design possibilities for retail environments and are continually expanded to include new technical solutions.

Well-known companies from retail and service sectors set great store by Visplay products. The versatility of Visplay systems is visible in megastores, fashion boutiques, brand stores, department stores, showrooms and service areas, where they contribute to economic success.

Visplay is committed to the highest level of product quality and safety. Each process within our company is subject to a comprehensive management system which corresponds with the DIN EN ISO 9001 quality standard and the DIN EN ISO 14001 environmental standard. Regular checks and compliance with standards are certified. The safety of Visplay systems is tested by the Nuremberg LGA (Federal Institute for Trade) and confirmed by the GS mark.

Long-term experience is one of Visplay's major assets: the company began developing and manufacturing shop window and display items as early as 1934. It set standards in design and technology from the very beginning.

Visplay International – with its head office in Weil am Rhein (Germany) – belongs to the Vittrashop group of companies, under which name Visplay operated until the end of 2000. There are sales offices in Switzerland, Great Britain, France, Spain, the Netherlands, Belgium, the Middle East and India. Visplay is also represented throughout the world by a wide network of partners. Visplay International covers the entire process chain from the development of the furnishings and display systems and their manufacture right through to sales.
